

Key Data from 2024 Cyber Recovery Readiness Report

This document is made to back up key points made in the related blog post. All featured data is taken from the report made by Commvault and GigaOm.

Breaches can cost up to $12 million
per day for an organisation

Due to the costs of being offline, and it also damages a company's reputation and trust from consumers.

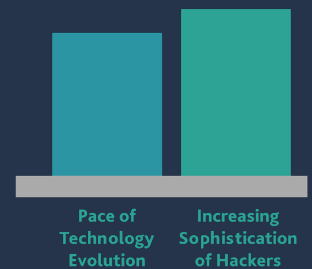

42%
of organisations lack understanding of who is responsible for cyber resilience and recovery strategies

83% of organisations have suffered a material security breach recently

Over half of which have occurred in the past year alone.

The Top 2 Concerns of security and IT Professionals:

- The increasing sophistication of hackers (35% are concerned)
- The pace of technology evolution (30% are concerned)

41%
Organisations who are cyber mature recover 41% faster from a cyber breach than organisations who aren't.